NOTICE OF THE REORGANIZED DEBTORS' FORTIETH
OMNIBUS OBJECTION TO CLAIMS
(NO LIABILITY / PASSTHROUGH CLAIMS)

Response Deadline:

Answer to Objection of Claim:

Our names are Joseph C. Loguidice and Stephanie C. Navarrette-Loguidice. We received a notice in the mail in regards to objecting to our claim we submitted prior to the deadline so that the Debtor can pay our claim that was due to a power surge on May 3, 2018. The power surge was caused by a transformer that was incorrectly grounded according to what a PGE representative, Melissa Snyder, had mentioned at the time. Several appliances in the house were damaged. We replaced them all; sent the receipts along with a cost for our time spent on the activity to PGE via a claim.

We do not think the Debtor should be allowed to object to paying this claim or have it purged.

Our neighborhood was affected by the event, and several neighbors suffered loss with miscellaneous appliances – one neighbor had a fan catch on fire. On that day, the Fire Department was dispatched.

We hereby certify that on this 1st day of December, 2020, a copy of this forgoing response was delivered on

To Whom it May Concern:

The claim submitted is due to property damage received when a power surge took place on May 5, 2018, along with the cost of time I spent on gathering all the information in this submission. I have included email conversations between PG&E representatives that I communicated with in regards to the power surge.

Prior to the power surge, we were experiencing unusual flickering of lights, bulbs burning out in different areas of the house on the same day or within a couple of days of each burn out. There was one plug that experienced popping sounds before blowing out, it had a smell of electrical smoke. Other plugs around the house also experienced electrical smoke and damage to items. There was a smaller power surge a few days before the major one on the 5th – this is when our first plug popped and we thought it was on fire because of the smell.

I was told the reason why the power surge took place was due to a wire not correctly being grounded at a nearby pole, which led to the fluctuations prior to and the big power surge itself. The power surge affected over a dozen homes in the area, one of which started a small electrical fire in one of the homes. For this claim, it is mainly to replace the damaged items that no longer worked after the surge; inspection, testing, and replacing of plugs; inspection of refrigerator and replacement of parts that burnt out as a result of the surge; trees that died after not receiving water due to the drip system timer no longer working; and the time I took in gathering all the necessary documents. There is a blue ray DVD/wifi player I had not yet replaced that was damaged, but I used an average based on web prices. Since I have not yet had it done, I also added the service fee it will cost to install the drip system using the same electrician that came out to the house to inspect the plugs since he is the one that will install it.

This has been a huge inconvenience to deal with when adding up all the small details while still trying to manage my daily life. From having to find the time to go to each store, using up gas and time, searching the web, finding an electrician and how to get someone to service the frig, setting up appointments for visits, trying to follow up with PGE reps because they don't call you back, and most of all the feeling of being unsafe because you think every time there is a noise that perhaps it's another plug popping that could turn into a potential fire, like what happened to our neighbor. I really hope that we receive the amount being requested so we can finally close this chapter.

Please make the check out to Joseph Loguidice.

Thank you.

Regards,
Joe and Stephanie Loguidice

Hello Melissa,

I will file a claim after we have someone come out to talk with us. Although I believe other neighbors have already filed a claim, I am taking extra precaution in ensuring other appliances are working ok.

In addition, I am also going to have my wires tested and a whole house power surge placed in our power box, both of which I would like to add to the claim. Is there anyone I can speak to to ensure the service and item can be covered or find out what other process/paperwork I need to file?

I have already filed the complaint asking for the meeting. My claim, as I understand it, is separate than resolving the complaint I have. I don't believe I should have to file a claim of damaged appliances in order to have someone come out and speak to us. Other neighbors are also waiting, it's getting a bit frustrating that it's taking this long to get our questions answered. We want reassurance of our safety and answers to questions so we can all move on.

Do you have the investigator contact information?

Thank you so much!

Warm Regards,
Stephanie

Hello Melissa,

Yes, I plan submitting a claim. However, I am also following up with you to coordinate a date and time with you, or someone who is familiar with PGE, and someone from the restoration company to meet with the neighbors that were affected with the surge.

It has been over a week and we would like to meet with someone soon.

Please let me know what dates and times work for you, preferably next week (Thursday, or Friday) during the weeknight around 7pm will work best.

Thank you.

Warm Regards,
Stephanie

CAUTION: This email was sent from an EXTERNAL source. Think before clicking links or opening attachments.**

Hello Melissa,

I spoke with you yesterday in regards to the power surge that took place on 5-3-18.

I had mentioned that I have several questions, some for general understanding and others that are specific to the event. You had asked if I can send them to you so you can have time to research, if necessary. I have included them below.

I look forward to hearing back on a meeting time and date. We would like the date and time to be during the week and after 6pm.

General Questions of Understanding:

1. What testing precautions are in place to ensure homes are protected from a power surge by a transformer?
2. How is it that a transformer can create a power surge that makes appliances catch fire?
3. Is there a safety standard in place that would prevent transformers from these types of surges taking place?
4. Are the transformers 100% QA inspected?
5. Where are transformers typically produced?
6. What monitoring system is in place at PG&E that warns about a power surge in any area?

7. Assuming there is a warning system in place, what is the protocol that takes place to resolve the issue and how do customers get notified?
8. Are the smart boxes able to send an alert to PG&E if there is a surge?
9. What certifications are required for the restoration group to be considered qualified to install the poles?

Specific Questions to Event:

10. Where was the transformer produced that created the power surge on 5-3-18?
11. Two-three month ago, a new pole was installed, was a new transformer also installed or was it the same transformer that was on the previous pole?
12. What test was done to ensure the transformer worked properly after it was installed?
13. How soon after the installation was done that the test took place?
14. Were any of the workers that installed the transformer working under supervision in a training capacity?
15. What caused the transformer to create a power surge on 5-3-18?
16. Was there any warning at PGE, days earlier, of a power surge leading up to 5-3-18?
17. How many PG&E staff were dispatched to the incident?
18. Many people were not home at the time, how did PGE warn customers about the power surge and provide the process on how to file a claim?
19. We were unaware when the transformer was fixed, why didn't PG&E reach out to customers afterwards to let us know the transformer was fixed and it was safe to turn on the power?
20. There was heavy electrical smell in our home, how can our homes be tested to check if our electrical lines have not been compromised due to the surge?
21. If we run into residual issues with appliances not working properly, how long afterwards can we still file a claim?
22. Is there an after-action report that we can read?

Thank you so much!

Warm Regards,

Stephanie

Hello Stephanie,

On January 29, 2019, PG&E filed for Chapter 11 in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of California.

Under Bankruptcy Court rules, claims related to matters occurring prior to the filing date are required to be addressed as a part of the Company's Chapter 11 cases. As a result, you will need to file your claim directly with the Bankruptcy Court.

Information and documents related to the Company's Chapter 11 cases, including information regarding how to file a claim, are available on a website administered by our claims agent: <https://restructuring.primeclerk.com/pge>. In addition, you can call the Restructuring Hotline at 844-339-4217 (for calls originating outside of the U.S. please dial +1 929-333-8977) or you can send an email to pgeinfo@primeclerk.com.

We regret any inconvenience this process may cause, and we remain committed to working with you to address any issues you may have.

Sincerely,

Bruce Richardson

Hello Bruce,

I never hear back from you after we spoke in August of last year. Your manager was on vacation at that time and you had to speak with him about the claim I wanted to submit. I would like to submit the claim so we can receive the check for the damages we incurred prior to and after the power surge.

When you had visited our house while canvassing the neighborhood, I had asked if the whole-house power surge protector could be added to the claim. At the time, you said to add the item to the claim. I called you back in August to let you know I would add it - we were waiting to hear back from the electrician on cost. At that time, you had said your manager was on vacation and you would need to speak to him first.

Since I had an issue placing the claim online, you had said I can call you and submit the claim. When would be a good time to do so? I work from 8-5 so if you are available before or after that timeframe, it would be great to get this done.

On Friday, May 18, 2018, 2:42:29 PM PDT, Stephanie Navarrette <snavarrette08@yahoo.com> wrote:

Hello Bruce and happy Friday!

Joe and I want to thank you for visiting us yesterday. You provided some good feedback and we were very happy that you and your supervisor were in the neighborhood canvassing those of us who were affected.

We will set up an electrical inspection as soon as we can as we have not had time to get to calling around the past couple of days. Plus, we would like to get the whole-house power surge so the electrician can install at the same time (reduces charges on the visit).

Finally, after your visit, and knowing you and Mike were canvassing the neighborhood, we are not sure a meeting still needs to take place. It sounded like you two had spoken to several people and more efforts were made to speak to everyone. We posted on Nextdoor.com about your visit, your contact information, and about the feeling that a meeting is not needed. If we still get requests to pursue the meeting, we will let you know. We do not anticipate it, though - but you never know.

We will be in touch to submit the claim.

Thanks again for taking the time to stop by. Have a great weekend!!

Warm Regards,

Stephanie and Joe

Time Invested Invoice

Invoice of Time Used

Due to the power surge, many hours of my time have gone into research, emails, phone calls, and driving to and from stores to purchase appliances. In doing so, I feel my time should be charged back to PG&E. If the claims investigator were to do all the work I have put into this process, they would charge their normal fees to customers. Since the power surge was the fault of PG&E I only see that it is a reasonable and fair request to charge my time.

Invoice of personal time using the claims investigator salary per hour at 10 hours (hours are lower than the actual time, but I feel it is reasonable):

Note: I provided two sources.

https://www.glassdoor.com/Salary/Pacific-Gas-and-Electric-Claims-Investigator-Salaries-E15208_D_K025,44.htm of 64k or $30.77/hour

<https://www.paysa.com/salaries/pacific-gas-and-electric-company--claims-investigator> of 75,744 or $36.42/hour

A) $10 \text{ hours} \times $30.77 = $307.70$ ← ✓

https://www.dir.ca.gov/dlse/faq_minimumwage.htm

Schedule for California Minimum Wage rate 2017-2023.

Date	Minimum Wage for Employers with 25 Employees or Less	Minimum Wage for Employers with 26 Employees or More
January 1, 2017	$10.00/hour	$10.50/hour
* January 1, 2018	$10.50/hour	$11.00/hour
January 1, 2019	$11.00/hour	$12.00/hour
January 1, 2020	$12.00/hour	$13.00/hour
January 1, 2021	$13.00/hour	$14.00/hour
January 1, 2022	$14.00/hour	$15.00/hour
January 1, 2023	$15.00/hour

If using the salary of the PG&E claims investigator salary is not acceptable, than the use of the California minimum rate should be acceptable, though I don't feel it is reasonable enough:

Blu Ray HDMI DVD Player

$ 81

Did not replace as of yet, but provided an Amazon printout of same/similar player. I originally paid $150. The cost of $ 81 includes the average of 5 prices after throwing out the lowest and highest prices. The player was in excellent condition, therefore, using the "very Good" condition.
